

About Plays and Players

By BIDE DUDLEY

WHEN the new musical show, "Blue Eyes," comes to Broadway the cast will be headed by that hand-spring comedian, Lew Fields, and Molly King. Morris Rove, the producer, has decided to give young Fields a chance to make a name for himself, and Miss King, who was married about a year ago, wants to act some more. Others in the cast are Andrew Tomber, Ray Raymond, Delyle Alda, Carl Eckstrom, Lotta Linticum, George Schiller, Philip White and Lee Frankel.

"THEM LOLLYPOPS."
Eddie Vogt writes us from Dallas, Tex., to tell us a story. He was returning to the theatre after a game of golf recently when the honk of a siver made him jump sideways with considerable verve. As the car went by an old farmer at the wheel yelled:

"Look out, young feller, or I'll knock them lollypops out yer arm."

A GUILD IN LONDON!
Overtures recently made to the Theatre Guild for the presentation of "Heartbreak House" in London, as staged at the Garrick, may result in an international guild. Lawrence Langner of the New York organization is now in England.

NORWORTH MOVES IN.
Word comes from Bound Brook, N. J., to the effect that Jack Norworth has moved into the old Sweeney Place over there. We don't know what the old Sweeney Place is except that it's the place Jack Norworth has moved into. For further details phone Arthur Covert, Rector 4178.

AS TO NORA AND US.
A Narcissus Kober writes us to ask if it is true that Nora Bayes's show was called "Her Family Tree" so that she might take plenty of bows. Next he asks: "Has the publication of your photograph in connection with your serial, 'Hollivur Brown,' increased or decreased The Evening World's circulation?" We can't answer the first question, but to the second we will say "Yes."

TYNAN OUT OF "TAVERN."
Brandon Tynan is out of the cast of "The Tavern," and John Meehan, stage manager of the company, has assumed the role. The part is that of the Vagabond. George M. Cohan says Mr. Meehan is so good in it he may have to engage another stage manager. It is understood the role was not exactly in Mr. Tynan's line.

GOSSIP.
Anne Warwick is now generally understood for "Three Live Ghosts." One hundred and fifty college boys will be "extras" in "In the Night Watch."
Princess White Deer, the Indian dancer, has been engaged for the "Midnight Frolic."
Kitty Berg will go to Palm Beach and Havana soon to enjoy a rest of a few weeks.
Willard Mack and Clara Joel will open in "Near Santa Barbara" at the Greenwich Village Theatre Jan. 21.
Francis H. Braser, formerly of the A. H. Woods forces, has quit the theatrical business to become a commercial giant.

The Delta Alpha Nu Fraternity of Hunter College will act a play at the Carroll Club on Feb. 8.
A deer one-step contest for two silver cups will be held at the Terrace Garden Dance Palace Tuesday night. Only "deers" will participate. Now guess?

John Cort will move his offices from the Longacre Building to the Coet Theatre soon.
Polly Van is playing leading comedy role in "Wedding Bells," in which Constance Talmadge is the star.
Forty colored girls of the Red Circle Glee Club will take part in a Chinese operetta called "The Pearl of the Little Lanterns" at the New Star Casino Thursday night. The show will be given for the benefit of the North Harlem Community House.
